Dear Les,

Thanks for the note and the copy of the column as sent out. It was carried that way locally. I, too, am sorry the Post didn't carry that part because it could have done some good with Washington exposure.

Whittaker may not have returned your call but it did not go unnoted.

Jim Lesar had written a strong personal letter to the first DJ lawyer on the case, a man Jim regarded as an honest conservative. (One word too many!) It was ignored for more than a month. Then Whittaker wrote a letter to Jim's Nader counsel. Fine! I know their fallback position know and will prepare my ACLU counsel for it.

Without your calls they'd have ignored Jim's letter and we'd not know their newest lies.

Hope you have a great time in Europe!

Thanks and best,

Harold
